FOR RELEASE: August 31, 1966

Donald H. Wendell, associate director of the United Community Corporation, will assume duties as acting executive director of the antipoverty agency tomorrow, (Sept. 1), it was reported earlier this week.

In an administrative memorandum from Cyril D. Tyson, UCC executive director, it was announced that Mr. Wendell will continue in the post through October 3 while Mr. Tyson is on terminal leave. Mr. Tyson has resigned his position with the UCC and will become deputy administrator for Community Relations with the New York City Human Resources Administration.

Mr. Wendell, a resident of Newark, and the former executive director of the Human Relations Council of Greater New Haven (Conn.), has been serving as associate director since May 1965.

Mr. Wendell was also employed by Community Progress, Inc., New Haven's antipoverty program, the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), and International Ladies Garment Workers Union.
